

CACTUS LEAGUE DOPE

By N. M. Walker

GEYHENIX won't do. Not that the little fellow with the nasal voice is not on the square. Neither is it because he does not know the game. It's his size that is against him. He does not have the physique to back up his decisions. In each game that he has officiated in, there has been some disagreement over the umpire's work and little Geyhenix usually came out of the decision second best. He simply hasn't the physical ability to enforce his orders and maintain discipline. It is to be regretted that conditions are such that as capable a man as he is cannot be allowed to get away with his work, but ball players are ball players, and it takes a Silks (Glaughlin) sort of umpire to handle the job.

A big husky who knows the game and has the reinforced concrete spine necessary to enforce his orders should be imported from one of the minor leagues, give salary and authority enough to run the game as it should be run, and then the managers of the league should back him up till the cows come home. If necessary, fine, suspend, or even release a player who shows a tendency to rough work and this umpire beating business will soon cease. Moskey has put the fear of his big mitt into some of the unruly ones of the league and with another one like him with an iron jaw, things would look up in the umpiring department of the game.

Old war horse Dalrymple is the goods. In spite of the fact that he is the biggest crab in the league and acts as if he was about due for the scrap heap, the old head with the gray hair has a few baseball tricks left in his inner ear, and El Paso wants to watch the old boy closely during the Bisbee series over here or he will slip over another of his big league stunts on the Mavericks.

Dal hits as not other batter in the league hits, which means that he hits them where the fielders do not happen to be. It is no accident with him. Design is written all over his safe hit and he can be depended upon to lay one in the groove almost every time he comes to bat. Neither is he such a slouch in the field. Charley horsed until every move seems an effort, the old war horse will gallop after a fly and what is more to the point, grab it even as Ducky some 30 odd years his junior, does regularly.

Dalrymple gets the pup. He has pulled a baseball out of the air over at Douglas and been headlining the league in the very first month of the season.

In the past the word "Bisbee" has struck terror into the hearts of the local fans. Bisbee's reputation in this particular branch of the baseball tree has been little more than a sprout in the past. But watch those fire sale

Negro Fighter Says He Will Disguise to Go to See Jeffries Box.

Jack Johnson, according to a war story sent out by a versatile correspondent at the negro fighter's training camp, will attend the boxing exhibition to be given in San Francisco Friday night by Jeffries.

Johnson says he got the idea from one of his trainers who suggested it in fun.

As another indication that feature stories have featured out at the Johnson camp, and also at Jeffries headquarters—that is since he has recovered from the attack of boils, the press agent makes Johnson announce that he will disguise himself by wearing whiskers in order to gain admission to the Jeffries exhibition.

But this is what Johnson (T) said: "Jeffries certainly would be surprised if I should show up with some false whiskers and suddenly pull them off while he was boxing. But why shouldn't I go and see him? Of course I have seen him in action before, but then I might like to know what condition he is in. I am not, worrying about the fight or about Jeffries, for I expect to beat him, but all the same I think that I will be on hand next Friday night."

In another "interview" with Johnson—written by the same correspondent sitting under the shade of a sheltering palm—it is said:

"This 12 miles of road work is taking off the weight for me. When I reached California I weighed 228 pounds and now I am down close to 218. For the fight I expect to weigh something like 208. You see, when I fought Ketchel out here I weighed 193, but I have grown heavier since then and my best fighting will be done at 208. I am eating and drinking just what I please now, so you can see I am getting down to that weight without any difficulty."

When there is nothing else to be written, the versatile correspondent—or his brother—hits on the referee business, and the last time—let us hope—Johnson has announced:

"The referee has been selected," with some emphasis, of course, "Rickard is just as satisfactory to me as he is to Jeff. We are the ones that have to serve. I don't consider there is a chance for any one else, and have told Rickard I don't expect him to back down."

All of which makes us think that Johnson's press agent has Jeffries's scribble tied to the post, for the time being at least.

Dope On Texas League Games

Special by Wire to The Herald. Monday's Games.

SAN ANTONIO WINS.
Houston, Tex., May 24.—Although Houston outbit the Bronchos two to one, the visitors managed to win the game by a score of 4 to 3. The loss of the game can be attributed to loose fielding on the part of the Buffaloes, who made five errors at critical periods. Newnam made a triple and Middleton a two bagger, but they did not come at a time when there were men on bases.

EASY FOR THE PANTHERS.
Fort Worth, Tex., May 24.—Crowsen proved easy for the Panthers. Two of the runs scored by Fort Worth were on sacrifice flies to the outfield by Gribbens and Riggs. The others were made in the seventh, when a double, two singles and a base on balls were mixed. Filman stole second and home in that inning.

THIRTEEN INNINGS.
Galveston, Tex., May 24.—The Sand Crabs took the game from Waco in 13 innings, both runs being homers. Hoffmann hit over the left field fence in the second inning. In the 12th inning, who had struck out three times before, hit the first ball pitched and lifted it over the field fence. By bunting their four hits in the ninth inning, Waco scored Harrison, keeping the score tied to the 13th.

Head today's Johnson fight "news" for prize press rot. The negro has begun talking like Booker T. Washington in disgust. How long will the dear public stand for it?

With Frank Gotch, wrestler, and Nat Goodwin, actor, Jeffries should have just a lovely time next week. He can have Jim Jitsu for breakfast, Shakespeare for dinner and fish for supper.

Both Johnson and Jeffries refuse to listen to any referee talk. Rickard is the guy all right.

Knockout Brown failed to knockout Charley Griffin at New York Monday night. Instead, Morenci was knocked down, but not out.

Denver tied the score with Des Moines Monday through an error by Rafals in the ninth. It had to go to 12 innings. Keeler kept scattered hits and won the game for Omaha yesterday.

Frank J. Greer, Boston sculling champion, is talking of rowing a race with Eddie Durnan of Toronto. Too bad the Rio Grande is not suitable.

Keeler kept scattered hits and won the game for Omaha yesterday.

Monday sent Tannehill home with the winning run. There was sharp fielding and excellent work for both teams.

Suppose! Jack Johnson does wear false whiskers and visit Jeffries's boxing exhibition? Will Jeff become flustered? Will he stand for it? Prune, prune! who's the quince?

All three of Pittsburgh's pitchers were slugged Monday by New York batsmen and it ended 1 and 7.

Through a rally in the sixth, St. Louis shut out Brooklyn at Monday's game. Lush outpitched Barker and earned a clean victory.

J. H. Taylor and James Braid, the English golf experts, have been invited to play in the tournament at the opening of the national course on Long Island this summer.

Cummings worked for Morenci and tied the score, but Cincinnati bunched hits in its half and won with Freck hard hit.

We haven't heard about Jeffries's punches for a long time. How is the back, anyhow?

Walter Johnson, of Washington, struck out nine St. Louis batters in Monday's game.

CLIFTON PEEVED AT MORENCI BUNCH

The Postponement of Ball Games Does Not Set Well With the Fans.

(By L. R. Crawford.)
Clifton, Ariz., May 24.—The Clifton fans are grumbling a bit. Two weeks ago Morenci postponed her Saturday game, being unable to secure a crowd. Last week it was the same thing, but Clifton being anxious to play out her schedule, the game was arranged for Sunday morning. On Saturday, after the game had been advertised, Morenci called it off, as they wanted to run an excursion and bring down a crowd in the afternoon. There were not more than 15 paid admissions for Morenci.

It is safe to state that 50 percent of the gate at Morenci comes from Clifton, consequently the local fans think that Morenci is playing the Clifton public. If they can't play out their schedule, the games should either be played off in Clifton, where the locals assume the risk of no crowd, or forfeited. Clifton people think.

A single by Clifton was made to play off one of the postponed games Decoration day, playing Saturday, Sunday and Monday next week. The local fans think it should be up to Clifton to set the date for the postponed matches as they were put off by request of the Morenci management, Clifton being ready to play on both occasions.

Playing but one game last week gave Morenci a chance to pull up even with Clifton with the odds in Morenci's favor for next week as Clifton faces three games with but two pitchers working. Clifton having been called away on account of sickness in his family and the team of E. Mason, one of the hitters on the team, and his absence will necessitate a complete change in the lineup.

Sunday's Game.
Morenci evened things up by taking Sunday afternoon's game from Clifton, 10 to 4.

The game was won on the merits of the visitors' long hard drives, which came at opportune times. Scanlan, who started the game for the locals, was hit hard in the second and, coupled with two errors, Morenci scored five. Despite this, Scanlan pitched good ball, fanning four men in two innings.

Abbott was sent in to pitch in the third and was touched up in the fourth and fifth, after which he settled down and the team played fast behind him.

A peculiar play occurred in the ninth. Kelley hit a fly to right, Riley and Scanlan both going for it. A hack was driving across the outfield, and in getting under the fly, Scanlan got directly in its path. The driver kept on coming and Riley had to pull Scanlan away, the near horse brushing his shoulder.

The Rooters' club is now looking for the driver as the ball fell safe.

Cummings worked for Morenci and was invincible till the fourth, when the locals started to touch him up. Sensational fielding, however, held them down. The boys made a rally in the ninth, but Morenci's lead was too great.

The score.

organization into being under the title of American Aeronautical association. The officers who were elected proved pending new elections to be held June 22 are:

George M. Myers, president; A. E. Lambert, first vice president; J. V. Martin, second vice president; Victor Loughead, secretary, and Jerome Joyce, treasurer.

Action concerning the conduct and locality of the forthcoming international aviation meet was left until today. It had already been decided to hold the contest on Long Island near Hempstead, but the exact place has not been selected.

GOTCH AND GOODWIN TO ASSIST JEFFRIES

Ben Lomond, May 24.—Jim Jeffries will take it easy this week. His road work, including sprinting, will be kept up regularly, but it is thought likely that the big fighter will have a little to do with the gloves until Jim Corbett arrives next week.

Ben Lomond, Cal., May 24.—Frank Gotch, champion wrestler, has promised to be in camp next week, leaving after his match with Zhyssy and landing not later than June 1. And not only will muscle be added to Jeffries's training force, Nat Goodman, the actor, is expected today for a week in camp. What he will do with the work is not known. The heavyweight took life easy yesterday. He took a little spin up the road and spent most of the day with his rod and reel.

Boosting for Grancy for referee has about played out. All feel sure that Tex Rickard is going to stay with his job.

SERIOUS LOSS FROM STORMS OVER TEXAS.
Dallas, Tex., May 24.—Sunday night's storms in Texas indicate a heavy loss. In Grayson county, near Sherman, for a strip a mile wide and six miles long was devastated. The storm destroyed all crops and damaged many houses.

In Lamar county a number of dwellings were wrecked.

In Falls county a bridge across the Brazos river, costing $50,000, was washed away yesterday. Heavy crop damage is reported from counties in the Red River valley.

Near Ida all streams are overflowed as the result of a cloudburst. A farm house was blown away by a twisting wind that accompanied the rain. Hall covered practically all of Grayson county last night. Cotton is ruined and hundreds of acres of fruit trees are stripped of their fruitage and limbs. Hall drifted more than two feet high were found in places.
